Cloud solutions

Proven, market-leading solutions for utilities to support business needs as-a-service

Like never before, utilities need to respond with agility and speed to take advantage of opportunities presented by new technologies and solutions, and to make the best selections to underpin their strategies. All too often, the investment in technology products and related skills for implementation and integration can be prohibitive. Hosted cloud-based applications and platforms offer an attractive alternative.

World class infrastructure, applications, and support team for as-a-service adoption

OMNETRIC offers utilities secure, as-a-service solutions that leverage and integrate Siemens' market-leading smart grid technologies. As a joint venture between Siemens and Accenture, we have unique access to Siemens' technology product suite, which we combine with Accenture's recognized systems integration methodologies, tools and experience.

Our solutions span utilities' information technology and operations technology (IT/OT) landscapes, including infrastructure, software, and business process outsourcing.

We can cover advanced distribution management, meter data management, demand response, and virtual power plants, as well as analytics and security and custom solutions. Our cloud offerings are hosted on a world-class global infrastructure and supported by a team with deep domain experience.

The OMNETRIC team has the engineering, data, technology and operations expertise to help utilities scope, design, configure, integrate, test, commission and run cloud-based solutions. We treat your information like our own.

Our solutions are built on best practices and conform to global ISO and country-specific data, security, and privacy regulations. A virtual, private cloud model delivers cost efficiencies and scalability without compromising security.

Our solutions-as-a-service include:
• Siemens Spectrum Power Advanced Distribution Management System
• Siemens EnergyIP Meter Data Management Platform
• Siemens Demand Response Management System
• Virtual Power Plant and Market Participation Software
• OMNETRIC Data Discovery for Smart Grids
• Custom solutions

Benefits of cloud solutions from OMNETRIC

Skills – Reduced need for in-house skills. Our cloud-based solutions give you access to new capabilities which leverage a team of skilled professionals for integration and on-going maintenance.

Security – Multiple physical and logical security layers are in place to secure your data and protect privacy. Access is monitored, data is encrypted, and ongoing monitoring ensures prompt response to any threats.

Compliance – Our cloud solutions are ISO certified, standards-based, and comply with local regulations.

Speed – Our cloud services are operationalized quickly, allowing utilities to be more agile and responsive.

Flexibility and scalability – Our cloud resources can be scaled up or down to meet changing needs.

Cost – Our cloud solutions operate on a fixed or variable pay-per-use model, lowering financial risk and delivering a lower total cost of operation.

Standardized processes – Leveraging world-class processes and industry-leading technology, we deliver consistent and predictable results with highly standardized processes.
